Court House News

A decree of divorce has been granted to Mary Hunnicutt from Harry Hunnicutt, who is serving a sentence of from one to 10 years in the state penitentiary for grand larceny. Judge Kelly awards the care and custody of three minor children to the plaintiff, and grants her $25 a month alimony until the sum of $400 shall have been paid. Hunnicutt was committed to the prison from Polk county.

Hunter's licenses have been issued by the county clerk to Clyde LaFore and Clyde Kelly, Turner, Carl O. Engstrom, C. J. Thrapp and Elmer Leisy, Salem; R. E. Crossit and Ross Condit, Aumsville; J. H. Hengill, Gervais; James Kromling, Hubbard; B. L. Carothers, Talbot.

A Civil war veteran's hunter's and angler's license has been issued to John F. Blair, Salem.

A suit for collection has been filed in justice court by the Business Men's Adjustment company against J. R. and M. Campbell. Default judgments have been awarded this company against Robin Southwick and B. C. Balch.

The county clerk has issued a marriage license to James Gillespie Landerback and Lena Maude Matten, both of Salem.

The county court has admitted to probate the will of Martin Giesy, deceased, and B. F. Giesy and Ida Moshberger have been appointed to execute same. Louis Wehach, G. A. Ehlen and Guy N. Wickok have been named as appraisers of the estate, which consists of real property to the probable value of $25,000 and personal property to the probable value of $20,000.

Pat Devine was sentenced this morning by City Judge Elgin to pay a fine of $10 or serve five days in jail, and he chose the latter. He was arrested for drunkenness.

The Drager Fruit company is now working on an order for 60,000 pounds of dried prunes for James R. Baker & Co., Chicago, half of 30's and half 40's. All the prunes in the Myrtle Creek district are now dried or will be in a few days. Two weeks time will be required to finish the drying in the Rosburg district. The Salem plant is giving employment to 60. Just at present the price is close to 6 1/2 cents for 30-40's.

The Spa will serve lunch from 8 a. m. until 12 m., good service, you will not have to wait. Good eats.

The school children will mix study and vacation to a considerable extent this and next week. Today it is children's day at the state fair and no schools are in session. Children under the age of 12 are admitted free today. But on Salem day, Wednesday, another vacation day, only those under ten years of age will be admitted free. Next week the children will be given three days off, as the annual county institute will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and every teacher in the county is obliged to attend.

For sale, model 27 Buick automobile in good condition for $350. See Merlin Harding, Salem Hardware company.

J. C. Jones, district manager of the Woodmen of the World is in the city shaking hands with the boys and incidentally inquiring what arrangements have been made for the reception of I. E. Boak, head consul of the order, who will make Salem a visit Wednesday, October 11. Not only will Mr. Boak visit the local lodge, but in his tour of the west he is accompanied by several of the head officers of the W. O. W. Committees have already been appointed to arrange for the reception, to which will be invited Woodmen from all surrounding lodges.

Billie Burke filled the Oregon theatre to overflowing both afternoon and evening yesterday in "Gloria's Romance." For the benefit of those who expect to attend this evening or Tuesday, it may be said that the plot thickens and that Billie is now engaged to the villain in the play. In this play, as all others run in series, it isn't the first cost, but the up-keep.

Boost for the fair—boost for Salem Snook Hygrade cigars—Salem's best 5 cent snook.

Express companies report business at the fair grounds double that of any former year, due to a large extent to the greater number of exhibits and also to the fact that all living in or near the grounds are now receiving goods by express. Perhaps the largest single express shipment this year was that of three car loads of blooded horses, sent direct to Salem from the Washington state fair at North Yakima.

Gitney dance at fair grounds, in grand stand every night this week. Music by Booth string orchestra, sept 27.

The Drager Fruit company is now working on an order for 60,000 pounds of dried prunes for James R. Baker & Co., Chicago, half of 30's and half 40's. Owing to next Wednesday being Salem day at the state fair the United Artists will not hold their regular meeting on that evening. sept 27

Attorneys Richardson and Reeves are today moving their law offices from the Cross building to rooms in the Hubbard building.

For sale, river bottom ranch, consisting of 151 acres; 25 acres of hops, some cleared land. Hard and cottonwood timber, for $65 per acre. Terms. See Merlin Harding, Salem Hardware company.

Henry Fear, the negro who was arrested last week for stealing a melon from an East State street store, has been committed to the asylum for the insane.

A. M. Dalrymple filed this morning, for city recorder. He was formerly editor of the Oregon Messenger, was employed at the state penitentiary and recently has been conducting a printing office in the D'Arcy building.

Two violators of the law pertaining to the speed of automobiles were arrested by the local police yesterday. They were L. A. Taylor and Bert Victor. Taylor put up $10 bond for his appearance and forfeited same. Victor paid a fine of $10.

A new, or amended opium ordinance will be introduced at the next meeting of the city council. According to the present ordinance which was drawn and passed in 1901, it is difficult to secure convictions as it includes so many legal technicalities. The new ordinance will leave out all the various technical phrases and state plainly what is and what isn't when it comes to the opium business whether buying, selling or using.

The August report of the Commons Mission, 241 State street, is as follows: Receipts, $61.43, from collections and room rent. The disbursements were $59.43, paid for building rent, water bills, lights, telephone, laundry, repairs and living expenses. This leaves a balance of $2 on hand at the end of the month. The attendance for the month was 449; average attendance, 35; number of services, 13; assisted 15 people in getting work and gave clothes to 15.

For the past eight days the maximum temperature has not varied four degrees and the minimum, not more than three. Yesterday the warmest was 72 and the coldest 48. The river is now lower than at any time this summer or fall, with a gauge of 7 of a foot below zero. So far this month there has been a rainfall of 1.17 inches. The U. S. snag boat Mathews is in the river, and will be in the morning and will go to Eola. The above is all news from the dock.

Flax day at the state fair will be next Thursday instead of Tuesday as first announced. A letter from Dr. Pierce of Portland this morning said that the principal speaker of the day, J. Sidney Starling, a manufacturer of Tonawanda, N. Y., would not be able to arrive until Tuesday. However, all the speakers and those interested have been notified of the change of date and the program as arranged, which includes addresses in the morning and afternoon, will be carried out. Addresses will be made by the governor and others interested in flax culture.

Salem will soon have six street cars that when it comes to real style and class, will line up with anything in Portland or Seattle. The first of the cars arrived today and will be put in service at once on the State and Commercial line. It is a "pay as you enter" car, with an automatic arrangement the motorman can open or close the entrance or exit doors and when either one of these doors are opened, a stop is lowered. With the closing of the doors, the steps are folded along the side of the car. The new cars will represent the very latest in street cars.

The "Human Fly" is in town and his name is Archie Crisp. He will make a second attempt to climb the court house providing Judge Bushey gives his consent. By putting a rope or two over the south end of the top of the clock, he claims to be able to make it. Since his last appearance in Salem he climbed the Multnomah hotel, the Knights of Pythias Temple at Tacoma and was willing to climb the 42 story Smith building in Seattle only the authorities weren't willing that any man should risk his life making the effort.

An ordinance placing an annual license of $50 for pawn brokers, and a half year's license at $25, will be up for final passage at the next meeting of the city council, Monday October 2. At present, the license is $100 a year which is prohibitive. With a lower license, it is hoped that a bona fide pawn brokers shop will be opened in Salem, where according to law, pawned goods are recorded and cannot be disposed of until the expiration of 60 days. The second hand stores and junk shops do not come under the pawn broker ordinance and the police have more difficulty in tracing articles that have been stolen and sold as second hand goods.

L. Bechtel returned Saturday evening from a visit to the east and mid-west, having been called to Hannibal, Mo., by the death of his mother. Before returning home he visited many of the leading cities of that section and reports light grain crops in the big cereal states of North and South Dakota and Minnesota. This has tended to make business conditions hardly as good as formerly when big crops and high prices gave the farmers unbounded prosperity. Manufacturing towns however are very active throughout that section. Mr. Bechtel states that he saw no section during his travels that looked as good as the Willamette valley.

State House News

The Southern Pacific company has filed a supplementary application with the public service commission stating that it wishes to place the Utah-Idaho Sugar company's Grants Pass on a parity with the California refineries by establishing the same rates from Grants Pass to points in Oregon as are in effect from California. In the original application the railroad company named a 15 cent rate for a minimum weight of 60,000 pounds, and it now desires to establish under like conditions a rate of 20 cents per hundred on sugar in packages, minimum carloads of 36,000 pounds.

Governor Withycombe left today for Boise to participate in the governors' day exercises at the Idaho state fair.

James S. Stewart, of Fossil, filed this morning with Secretary of State Olcott his certificate of nomination as an independent candidate for the legislature from the Twenty-eighth district, comprising Gilliam, Sherman and Wheeler counties.

Certificates of nomination by the socialist county convention of Jackson county of L. M. Boncher, Applegate, and F. E. W. Smith, Talent, for representatives in the legislature from Jackson county, have been returned by Secretary of state Olcott for the reason that it is without the province of his office to accept and file the same for certification upon the official ballots for the general election, November 7, as they were not presented for filing within the time provided by law.

Frank S. Ward is home from Pendleton where he just appeared to be during the "Let'er Back" season. According to Mr. Ward's figures, he was just one of the 30,000 attracted to the annual row boy event and also one of the same number that approved of the decision of the judges in awarding the first prize and the $350 silver mounted saddle to the 50 year old Indian, Jack Sundown, as the champion cow boy of the world.

The case of John Likusky vs. F. A. Gleason, in which the plaintiff brought suit to collect $79 damages from the defendant because a bar, belonging to defendant was alleged to project onto plaintiff's property, and because defendant was alleged to have thrown wood on plaintiff's property, was heard before Judge Daniel Webster this morning. A judgment was returned for the defendant to the extent that plaintiff was ordered to pay the costs of the action.

The Geer & Krenger furniture house held its formal opening Saturday in its new location on Court street in the new Weaford building. In its new building built especially for the firm, Salem has a store that will compare favorably with any in the northwest in artistic beauty and general arrangement. More than 1000 were in the store during the special receiving hours and the 500 special aluminum saucepans given as souvenirs were in such demand that after the supply was exhausted, 350 ladies registered as being willing to be remembered when the next supply arrived.

King Bing Dekebach is doing his best to induce the Cherrians to turn out in force during the state fair and to place themselves in evidence not only on the streets and depots, but at the fair grounds. A Cherrian in uniform, giving general information and assisting travelers is a fine advertisement for Salem and for the reason Mr. Dekebach is anxious that all should take the assignment given them. John J. Roberts has been appointed chairman of the committee for Tuesday and the following have been asked by King Bing to appear in uniform and do their duty: Russell Catlin, C. Dick, D. W. Eyre, Wm. Galsdorf, R. B. Goodin, George F. Rogers, W. M. Hamblin, L. E. Horer, Paul Johnson, J. H. Lanterman, W. E. Keyes, J. B. Linn, Fred E. Mangis and Dr. B. E. Pound. Wednesday is Salem day and besides the members of Al Kader Temple of Portland, bringing 300 Shriners for the afternoon and evening, the Salem folks will be in evidence and also the school children. For Salem day the Cherrians are expected to do the right thing and every member of the organization has been ordered to appear in uniform. In appointing the committee for Wednesday, King Bing Dekebach has selected members of the Al Kader Temple and members of the Woodmen lodge. T. B. Kay has been appointed chairman of the day, and the special committee of the day, and places near the top of the list, as follows: T. C. Smith, Frank Lovell, Wm. Burghardt, Jr., Fred S. Bynon, Dr. H. H. Olinger, Hal D. Patton, G. G. Brown, Judge C. L. McNary, Z. J. Riggs, F. E. Chaffer, M. L. Meyers, Henry Lee, R. T. Richardson and Dr. O. A. Olson.

The Salem Rifle club is now one of the largest organizations of its kind in the northwest and now numbers 140 active members, and more coming in.

Sunday, 25 members of the club took part in the shoot at the Finner range, dividing into two competent teams. The shooting was as the regulation ranges at slow and rapid fire, about 1,000 shots being fired in all.

The records made are as follows, each score being out of a possible 50:

Shooting at 200 yards, slow fire: B. W. Macy, 41; Chester Fraser, 37; George Smuge, 40.

Shooting at 300 yards, slow fire: C. W. Elgin, 35; G. Kennon, 35; H. A. Freeland, 35.
